 tories—Utah, New Mexico and Arizona, if Alaska is not counted.

Harrison has scored six votes!
 Go it, old man! Keep your wind and don't get rattled, and, above all, look out for low balls!

William Kemmler, the Buffalo mur-derer, has been sentenced again to death by electrocution, and he will no doubt be "touched off" at Auburn.

The brave deserve the fair, and everybody will be glad that Capt.
 Murrell, the rescuer of the Danmark's imperiled passengers, has met with his just deserts.

The Pennsylvania ticket, PATTON and BLACK, is the same that won in 1882. It is nominated in opposition to the same kind of corruption which was overthrown then.

The BAZOO congratulates the pro-motors of the electric railway on the liberal patronage that is being bestowed upon the new line. The people of Sedalia appreciate a good thing when they see it.

The Fourth was duly celebrated on Friday. Everyone had a pleasant and enjoyable holiday, the weather was delightful, and music and sports at Association Park filled out the programme of the celebration.

Minnesota farmers wish that binding-twine shall be cheapened by having in manufactured in the State prison. If they will have it made there by some of the politicians who make it costly by taxing the raw material the reform will be complete.

A decreased allowance of cigarettes has improved the condition of King Humbert's melancholia. This lesson should not be lost on the youth of the period, who could decrease the melancholy otherwise adjacent to them, so to speak, by letting up on cigarette smoking.

Mrs. Ann Stokes, of Urbana, O., telegraphed to the pension bureau a few days ago in some alarm that her property was about to be sold under an execution and asked if her pension could not be granted and her home saved. Next day the commissioner telegraphed: "Pension claim allowed.
 You will receive about $2,000. Certificate will be issued to-day."

A singular illustration of the proverb about "the bitter bit" is the trial of Dr. Pierce, a druggist in Illinois, for selling liquor without license. The accused was a year ago elected mayor of his town on the prohibition ticket, and officially he has been very active in prosecuting, or persecuting, the liquor sellers of Hoopeston, while it seems he was engaged in the same traffic, conducted on the "prescription plan."

A PENSION FOR EVERYBODY.

Congressman Connell of Nebraska is a humorist, conscious or unconscious. Catching the prevailing pension enthusiasm of his party he has carried it a little further than his fellow-congressmen have yet made up their minds to go.

Not satisfied with the legislation which turns the government into a huge machine whose chief reason for being is to distribute some $200,000, 000 a year to the old soldier, Mr.
 Connell wants pensions for the emanc-cipation slaves, and has introduced a bill for that purpose. His bill proposes that every freedman under 50 years of age shall be entitled to a pension of $4 a month; over 50, $8 a month and $100 bounty; over 60, $12 a month and $300 bounty; over 70, $12 and $500 bounty.

This suggests a large and hitherto unexplored field for pension statesmen. Why not pension all the men who were in the civil service during the war? They didn't go to the war, but they might have gone had they not been needed by Uncle Sam in other capacities at that time. And their widows and orphans, too—why discriminate against these innocents merely because their husbands and fathers happened to be in the civil instead of the military or naval service?

There also are the women who were living at the time of the great conflict. They did not go to the war, but no doubt they would have gone had it not been for the disability of the sex, and that surely was not their fault. Let them have a pension too.
 And there are young men and young women who have grown up since the war. They might have fought, bled and died if they had been old enough. They couldn't help their age. A pension for them also!

Perhaps it would save time and trouble to pass one general pension law that every inhabitant of the United States shall have a pension of $50 a month. That would be a glorious era. And the best of it is that the pensions would not cost our people anything; for do not the pro-tectionists philosophers tell us that our taxes are to be paid by foreeigners?

Wes Hensley.

Wes Hensley, the accomplice, the boy who went to the jail and gave Turlington the pistol that he used to shoot down Sheriff Tom Cranmer, was taken from Sedalia to Boonville last week. Hensley was raised in this vicinity, leaving here some eight or nine years ago with his mother, who lives in Sedalia. He is the son of Finnis Hensley. His mother was a daughter of Matt Chandler. Hensley and she separated some nine or ten years ago, he securing a divorce in the Montebau circuit court. The woman had two boys. She married again and has been in Sedalia several years. From our personal knowledge of the family, this boy more than likely did as he was ordered by Turlington in delivering him the pistol at the jail, without thinking or realizing anything about the terrible consequences likely to follow. He is about 17 years of age.—California Democrat.

Dreadful Psoriasis

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by CUTICURA.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my sight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then covered my arms, my hands, my shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars I was cured almost entirely by the use of CUTICURA. I used six bottles of CUTICURA. I used one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP.
 I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTI-CURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight.
 Mrs. ROSA KELLY, Rockwell City, Iowa.

Burial of Tim Cosgriff.

Tim Cosgriff, who died of consumption a few minutes after 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, was buried from St. Vincent de Paul church yesterday forenoon, the remains being followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of sorrowing friends, including members of the Catholic Knights of America, Ancient Order of Hibernians and Catholic Benevolent society, of which orders he was an honored member.

Few young men had more warm personal friends than Tim Cosgriff, and the sympathy of all will be extended to the bereaved widow and two interesting, fatherless children, a daughter of 7 years and a son of 5.

Mr. Cosgriff was born in Canada in 1858, and had been a resident of Sedalia twelve years. He was for a time engaged in the grocery business and was afterwards employed as bookkeeper for a couple of business houses.
 He served one term as water commissioner, and also held the office of deputy county collector for quite a period. In all of these positions he proved faithful to the trust reposed in him. In his death the community loses a good citizen, the wife a devoted husband and the children an indulgent father.

The deceased carried a $2,000 insurance policy in the C. K. of A., which amount will be paid to his widow. During his illness he received sick benefits from the A. O. H. and C. B. S. of $5 each a week and the burial expenses will be paid by the two last named organizations.

A FIGHT IN BEHRING SEA.

Armed Cruisers in the Waters—The Canadians Much Worked Up.

Victoria, B. C., July 5.—The news telegraphed Thursday from Port Townsend that a special messenger had arrived from Washington with instructions for the commanders of the United States cruisers to proceed to Behring sea and seize all vessels found with any evidence that they had been engaged in seal fishery causes great indignation. At the same time comes the story that a British squadron has been ordered to rendezvous at Esquimaux.

The majority of British Columbians, however, believe that no matter what acts of piracy may be committed by the Yankees the British war ships will not interfere. For this reason Canadians will take the matter into their own hands and meet force with force on the high seas. It is known that crews of all vessels proceeding to the sealing ground were fully armed with a view of resisting seizure, but to-day a story leaked out that two clipper schooners are being secretly fitted out in Maple bay especially to meet the Yankees.
 It is said these vessels will each carry heavy swivel, besides two smaller guns, and disguised as sealers will tempt the seizure so as to bring on an encounter.

Regarding the story Capt. Scott, a veteran sealer, says that the report is, no doubt, true, but the matter had been kept secret for fear of British interruption. The skippers of the two vessels in which he was interested had armed their crews and before sailing swore to go to the bottom rather than submit to seizure.

COUNCIL OF EDUCATION.

It was in Session at Lake Minnetonka Yesterday's

S. Paul, Minn., July 5.—A very noted body of men and women, all educators of more than local renown, was that which assembled yesterday morning in the Chambers of Commerce, for the opening session of the national council of education. President Selim H. Peabody, of Champaign, Ill., called the council to order. After routine business the reports of the committee on the city school system, made by E. E. White of Columbus, O., was heard. Mr.
 Hinsdale of Michigan made a long speech on the subject of the relation of the city superintendent of schools to the school boards. W. T.
 Harris, United States commissioner of education, also talked upon the question. Ex-President Sheldon of St. Louis also spoke.

The afternoon session was made brilliant by a running discussion on the subject of educational literature.
 To-day the council will hold its session at Lake Minnetonka, and day's programme is an interesting one.

Central Business College Sedalia, Mo.

Some new pupils have entered since the last writing and some have started to night school to take penmanship.

H. Winsor returned to his home in Great Bend, Kansas, this week, where he will teach book keeping and penmanship in the Normal College of that place.

Prof. L. Morris was called to his home in Illinois, last week because of the sickness of his mother. He will return in a few weeks.

Among those who visited the college last week were, Prof. Oval Pirkey, principal of the public schools, West Plains, Mo.; W. F.
 Mertens, Hermann, Mo.; G. W.
 Crawford, Lamonte, Mo., and W. Y.
 Frigmore.

The contractors are progressing rapidly on the new college building on the corner of Sixth and Massachusetts Avenue. The foundation is almost laid and much other work done.

School was dismissed on Friday to give the pupils a chance to celebrate the Fourth of July, but many stayed in the school-room and worked all day. This indicates that they are going to school to learn, and not to squander their time and money for unnecessary.

—S. B. Dingeldine's brewery at Springfield, Mo., was destroyed by fire on the Fourth; cause, firecrackers; loss, $30,000; insurance, $8,000.

GONE UP IN SMOKE.

Upwards of $2,000 Expended in Sedalia for Fireworks on the Fourth.

The sale of fireworks in this city during the past week was simply phenomenal. The large and small dealers laid in an unusually large supply, yet the remnants left over, if put altogether, would not furnish much of a celebration even for a small party of young Americans. The cause of the large sales was due in a great measure to the large purchases made by wealthy citizens, who gave Fourth of July parties to their friends and had private exhibitions on a large scale.

Contractor W. P. Cousley entertained his friends at his residence on east Broadway with a fine display of pyrotechnics that cost him between $50 and $100. C. V. Lewis, of the "Big Four," also, gave a Fourth of July entertainment at his home on east 7th street. A fine exhibition of aerial explosives was given by Charles Messerly, at his residence on Kentucky street. One of the finest exhibitions made was that of Charles Ræfelsen at his residence on West Fifth street.

There were besides those mentioned a large number of fine displays made in different portions of the city that cost from $15 to $25 each.

Messrs. Fellows & Eastey probably carried the largest stock of fireworks in the city. Their stock, which consisted of rockets worth as much as $3.00 each, balloons, "reporting" bombs, Roman candles, firecrackers (from infants to giants), "nigger chasers," pin wheels and other kinds of pyrotechnics, worth between $700 and $1,000 was all sold with the exception of a few odd ends. C. S.
 Dexter also had a larger stock than usual and his sales were more than double that of any former year. One of his novelties was the "1890" mum-mon firecracker, an explosive twenty-four inches long and ten inches in circumference which was loaded for bear. Conrad Scheben, a well-known and popular "C. T." invested a dollar coin in one of them and ushered in the Fourth by exploding it in front of Peter Pehl's Fulton Market just as the clock struck the midnight hour.
 It made a roar that sounded similar to the peal of the cannon that broke up the battle of Brussels on the morning of the battle of Waterloo. Pehl and his customers thought a powder magazine had exploded and all rushed pell mell into the street in time to see Scheben chasing himself around the corner at Ohio street. Dexter reports his sale of fireworks at considerable over $500.

W. L. Beidler sold more than twice the dollars worth of fireworks than in former years. The smaller dealers also did a large business, and at a low estimate of the total amount of fireworks sold in Sedalia, the past Fourth, was over two thousand dollars worth.

A Grass Widow in Trouble.

Last night Officer John Murphy arrested William M. Evans and Mrs.
 Florence Harker at the residence of William A. Evans, on Twelfth and Harrison streets, on the serious charge of cohabiting together. William Evans was also charged with assaulting his father and disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Harker, a former resident of East Tennessee, and her mother, has been living at the Evans mansion.
 Being a comely looking woman, young Evans fell in love with her, and usurped the place of Florence's husband who is in Tennessee, and has been her roommate for a number of nights. Florence's mother did not object but William's parents did.
 As a result a family row took place and the head of the family came out second best. He saw he out a warrant for his son's arrest, and Officer Murphy learning the cause of the disturbance also arrested Evans' paramour.
 Evans was locked up in the "boose and Mrs. Harker was taken to the Merchant's hotel and left on parole.
 The case will come up before Judge Halstead Monday morning.

A Close Call.

E. G. Cassidy had a narrow escape from an accident the evening of the 3d. He was driving along Ohio street, when his horse took fright. Ed. endeavored to hold the animal level, but one of the reins broke at this time, and had not passersby caught the frightened steed a serious accident might have resulted.

Killed by a Playmate.
 Springfield, Mo., July 5.—At a picnic party of Springfield young people at the iron bridge on the James Friday afternoon Willie Mann, son of Alfred Mann, was accidentally shot and killed by one of his playmates.

—It is reported that Cornelius Vanderbilt will join the Barring Bros. in the ownership and management of the Atchafalpa system of railroads.

A Balloon Catches Fire in Mid-air—A Frightful Fall.

Beardstown, Ill., July 5.—Yesterday Prof. Samuel Black, an aeronaut, at a height of 400 feet in his ascent signalled that he was about to descend but something seemed to have gone wrong with his parachute. A few minutes later a thin stream of smoke was seen issuing from the par-chute, which in a few seconds burst into a flame, severing the parachute from the balloon, and the aeronaut was seen falling through the air at a frightful speed. Half an hour later his body was found horribly mangled about two miles from the scene of the ascent. It is supposed that the parachute caught fire from sparks from a mill near by.
